

Sheldon Norberg – House Healer

Have you ever walked into a house that just didn't feel right? As a Realtor, it's likely that you've come across a house which looked outwardly perfect, but for some inexplicable reason, simply would not sell. Obviously, in a down market, everything is slow, but what do you do about houses that defy all your best staging efforts, or give you (and your buyers) the feeling that something is wrong?

I'm Sheldon Norberg, author of Healing Houses.

For nearly 20 years, my clients have hired me to restore calm and clarity to homes that retained the feelings of long term illness, death, violence, divorce, financial loss and other trauma, not to mention ghosts and paranormal phenomena.

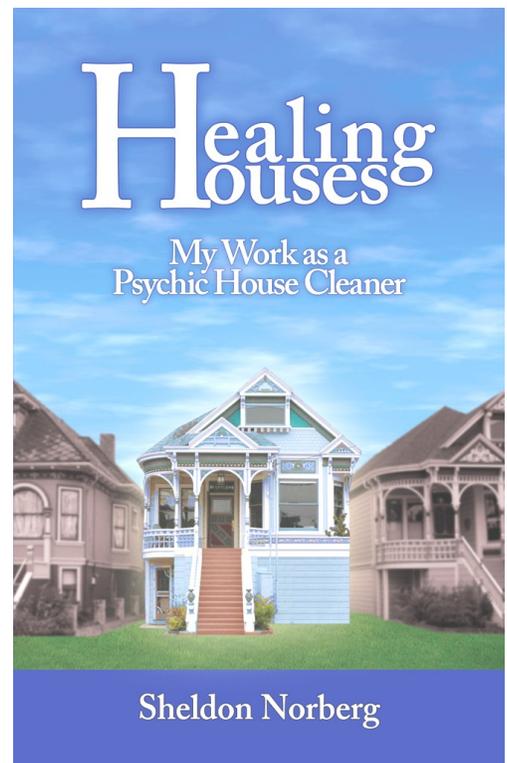

About a third of my clients have engaged my services in the sale of their homes. Often unaware of the impact of their own energetic situation, they listed their homes, beautiful homes, for up to 18 months, without an offer. What's more, the vast majority of these clients hired me in the height of the bubble, when everything sold.

As a Realtor, your business depends on closing deals to keep your clients happy, and to get their referrals. Sellers are impatient though, and with their holding costs mounting every month, you become the focus of their ire. A sitting house is a liability to your viability, not to mention your bank account. My work may be the strangest thing you've ever come across, but I'm willing to bet my fee that it will work for you!

My clients have experienced some astonishing turnarounds

(as this testimonial video attests), selling houses that had been lingering on the market in as little as three days after my work. I can't guarantee that for every house, but I do guarantee that it will sell, because as much as they may look at a house, buyers react to its feel, and that doesn't change with a coat of paint.

Just to prove to you how much I believe in what I do, I'm offering my services on a risk-free basis. I'll heal your client's home and if it doesn't sell within 45 days, pay me nothing. That's right, you have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Let's work together to make your job easier than you ever dreamt. Click here to see my contract.

For complete information, reviews, interviews, video, blog, etc., visit www.HealingHouses.com

Contact Sheldon Norberg directly Sheldon@HealingHouses.com or (510) 595-4699